

Army Sergeant Faces Another Treason Trial

BALTIMORE (AP) — John David Provo, former Army staff sergeant whose conviction and life sentence for treason were upset by the U.S. Court of Appeals, will be retried here, probably early next year.

A new warrant charging the 36-year-old former San Francisco bank clerk with treason while a prisoner of the Japanese in World War II, was issued here Wednesday.

Life Sentence Upset

U.S. Atty. George Cochran Doub, said he believes the government considers "this the most important treason trial since that of Aaron Burr."

In one of the weirdest cases to come out of World War II, Provo was convicted Feb. 11, 1953, of broadcasting wartime propaganda for the Japanese, of abusing fellow American soldiers in prison camps, and of causing the death of Army Capt. Burton C. Thomson of Swea City, Iowa, by informing on him.

Federal Judge Gregory F. Noonan sentenced him to life in prison.

The U.S. District Court of Appeals in New York last Aug. 27 upset the conviction and sentence on the ground that Provo should have been tried in Maryland where he was an Army prisoner at the time of his arrest on the treason charge. The Appeals Court also said the government wrongfully insinuated before the jury that Provo was homosexual.

Conviction Cost Million

It left up to the government the choice of appealing to the Supreme Court or retrying Provo in the Maryland District.

The issuance of the warrant Wednesday eliminated a Supreme Court appeal, Doub said.

The reversal cost the government a million dollars. With 69 witnesses—34 for the government, 35 for the defense—brought from all over the world, it cost the government that much to convict Provo.

Doub said most of the witnesses probably would be recalled.

Provo denied aiding the Japanese except under pain of death.

Three Wives Die; Man Convicted

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—A mild-appearing, white-haired 61-year-old man—whose three wives have died violently—will be sentenced to death here Monday.

George F. Sack, questioned by police about his first wife's death and found innocent by reason of insanity after his second wife's death, was convicted by an all-male jury here Wednesday night of murdering his third wife.

A death sentence is mandatory, but Sack's attorney said he would appeal.

The jury took seven hours to decide that the dapper Sack did away with his wife because he feared she was going to divorce him and claim part of his $125,000 in property.

The state contended he did it by stuffing her into the luggage compartment of his automobile last February and keeping her there until she suffocated. The body was found dumped in a vacant lot.

Burial Saturday

RENO (AP)—Arrangements were completed today for Catholic burial rites Saturday for Sen. Pat McCarran, 78 (D-Nev.) who died Tuesday night. A congressional delegation will attend the funeral.

Salesman Accused In Kidnap Murder Of Sioux City Boy

SIoux CITY, Iowa (AP)—A Sioux City detective said today "I think we have the right man" in the abduction - slaying of 8-year-old Jimmie Bremmer.

Detective Lt. Harry J. Gibbons identified the man as an itinerant salesman previously questioned at length in the case. No charge has been filed.

The salesman, described by Police Chief James O'Keefe as "psychotic as well as homosexual," steadfastly denies any knowledge of Jimmie's death.

"I think he knows a lot more than he's telling," Gibbons said.

The man has admitted talking to the boy on Aug. 31, the night he disappeared from near his home here. Police decline to name the man.

The month long search for the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Bremmer ended Wednesday in a pasture only four miles from the lad's home. Three highway maintenance men found the mutilated body.

The salesman, returned Wednesday afternoon from nearby Cherokee State Mental Health Institute, was taken to the scene where Jimmie's body was found before undergoing hours of questioning. He had entered the institute as a voluntary patient to take psychiatric treatment.

Dr. Thomas L. Cordien, county coroner, said the boy's head was crushed by one or more blows. No weapon was found.

U.S. And France Join In Buildup Against Reds In Indochina

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States and France evidently will put into immediate action a new billion-dollar program to bolster free Indochina against communism.

The approval of congressional leaders, however, will be sought for some expenditures.

Agreement on the program was announced Wednesday night in a communique issued after three days' talks between top French and American officials.

The communique gave only general statements of determination "to support the complete independence of Cambodia, Laos and Viet Nam."

French Forces Leave

It was learned from official sources that the main provisions of the program are:

1. France's 10-division force in Viet Nam will be systematically reduced. The aim is to get all French forces out by March 1956, about four months prior to elections on whether the whole of Viet Nam will go Communist or not.
2. The withdrawal will be slow to allow time to train larger native forces which eventually will assume responsibility for the country's security. Native forces will be trained also in Laos and Cambodia.
3. Large quantities of military equipment, supplied by the United States to the French for fighting the Communist in Indochina, will be turned over to the native troops.

Financial Aid Included

4. The United States tentatively is committed to give financial aid to the Paris government for support of its forces in Indochina.

5. The United States will give direct financial support to Viet Nam, Cambodia, and Laos at the rate of about 385 million dollars a year for the rest of this year. The rate may increase next year as their military forces grow.

The program developed in the conference led by U.S. Undersecretary of State Walter Bedell Smith, France's minister for Indochina Guy LaChambre and French Finance Minister Edgar Faure, is a renewal of the French-American cooperation which has been in a state of collapse since the Indochina war ended.

Killer Of Wave Gets 18 Years

LEONARDTOWN, Md. (AP)—Carl Willis Strickland, 21, Navy airman, has been sentenced to 18 years in prison for the slaying of pretty Wave Irene Marian Conole.

A jury convicted the Rocky Mount, N. C., youth of second degree murder Wednesday night.

Miss Conole, like Strickland, had been stationed at the Patuxent Naval Air Test Center, and was to have married another sailor within a few weeks of the date she was found dead—May 29. Her home was Rochester, N. Y.

The Wave's battered body was found partly submerged on a lonely beach. She had been beaten with a soft drink bottle.

The defense offered no evidence and no testimony in the case. Strickland, a slim six-footer with black wavy hair, admitted being with the girl the night of the slaying, but denied killing her. He said he last saw her on the beach in company with a hitch hiker he had picked up at her request.

Ministers Near Agreement On Rearming West Germany

Labor Peaceful In Detroit; Last Strike Settled

DETROIT (AP)—Settlement of the violence-marked Square D strike restored labor peace to Detroit today for the first time in three and a half months.

An agreement came suddenly Wednesday, a day after three strike leaders were jailed for 30 days and fined $250 each for contempt of a court order against mass picketing.

Striking Local 957 of the independent United Electrical Workers called a rank and file meeting today to ratify the settlement.

Walkout Leaders Fired

Terms were not publicly announced beforehand. However, they were assumed to include an agreement on the firing of 27 strike leaders.

Management wanted arbitration of each case before reinstatement of any of the men. The company fired them for "acts of violence." The union demanded their jobs back ahead of arbitration.

A series of secret company-union talks with government led to the dramatic settlement as a crowd of pickets returned to the strike scene to jeer employees going to work.

The union, calling out its 1,200 members, went on strike June 15. Wages and a company demand for an iron-clad no-strike clause were at issue.

Police Relieved

One of those hailing the agreement was Police Commissioner Edward S. Piggins. At times Piggins had as many as 175 police at the strike scene to keep down trouble.

The last of the strike probably has not been heard. Rep. Clardy (R-Mich) said it is going to be investigated by the House Un-American Activities Committee of which he is a member.

Clardy called the strike a Communist-led operation. The UE denied this.

Mankato Man Writes Bogus Check In Jail

MANKATO, Minn. (AP)—Wilford Devens, 29, Mankato, was charged with second degree forgery Wednesday after making out a false check for $110 in his jail cell and having it cashed.

Police said Devens gave the check to a prisoner in an adjoining cell, who cashed it after the man was freed from a drunkenness charge. Devens denied the charge until the officers said they found the $100 cash proceeds hidden under a jail wash basin.

The innocent cashier of the check paid $10 for his trouble by Devens, was not held. Devens had been in jail for investigation of bad check dealings.

Army Steps Up Its Combat Equipment

By ELTON C. FAY

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Army is adding a new long range guided missile to its arsenal, increasing the number of its combat-equipped divisions and buying more tanks.

This stepped-up Army tempo was disclosed in a series of announcements here Wednesday—the day after a conference in Colorado among President Eisenhower, Secretary of the Army Robert T. Stevens and Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, the Army's chief of staff.

1. The Army has gone into limited production of a new guided missile called Redstone. The weapon is presumably capable, like others of its type, of carrying an atomic warhead. Details of Redstone are secret, but there is speculation its range may be up to 500 miles.

The Army said it awarded to Chrysler Corp. last week an $855,000 contract to start limited production of Redstone. This brings the total for the Redstone project so far to more than 22 million dollars.

2. In a move which will add to its organization numbers, although not to its total manpower, the Army announced a program to boost the number of divisions designated as combat outfits to 24 in the next two years. This will be done by giving to five of the present six training divisions designations as combat divisions, equipping them with arms for battle-

Divers Hunt 800 Bodies In Ferry

HAKODATE, Japan. (AP)—Japanese divers, using torches borrowed from the U.S. Army, today cut a gaping hole in the capsized ferry Toya Maru to speed recovery of more than 800 bodies, including about 40 Americans.

Three bodies brought out shortly afterward were identified by Japanese officials as St. I. C. James E. Huey Jr., of Bridgefield, Pa.; St. Willard B. Batchelder of Brockton, Mass., and Pfc. Melvin K. Day of Stillham, Okla.

Until American equipment arrived, divers groping through murky water inside the hull had brought up only 64 bodies in three days.

The hole cut by divers when the 4,300-ton vessel turned turtle in Hakodate harbor in a typhoon Sunday night.

Rescue headquarters said less than 200 of more than 1,300 aboard the Toya Maru are known to have survived.

The typhoon toll in dead and missing totals more than 1,500 from sinkings, fires, landslides, floods.

U. S. Army officials said 60 Americans—soldiers, airmen, dependents and civilian employees—were aboard the Toya Maru. Only one soldier and the Japanese wife of another are among the survivors.

EAST LANSING (AP)—Gene Allemen, 55, of East Lansing, secretary of the Michigan Press Assn., was seriously injured Wednesday in a car collision on US16 near East Lansing. His wife, Velora, also was injured.

Williams And Leonard Snipe At Each Other In Campaign Speeches

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Democratic Gov. Williams and Donald S. Leonard lanced at each other Wednesday over the matter of "leadership" for Michigan's future.

At the same time Leonard, Williams' rival for election, charged the governor with violating the law by submitting state budgets in excess of revenue.

Williams, in a talk at Ann Arbor, said Michigan needs leadership alert to college and university financial needs of the future.

Budget Violates Law

Addressing Young Democrats of University of Michigan the governor said new estimates find that the state must be in position to take care of 170,000 college students by 1970.

He said his own record of securing $33,000,000 in state appropriations since 1949 for college and university building warrants his return to office.

Leonard, speaking at Howell, said Williams "violated the law by submitting budget which exceeded revenue."

He also said Williams had the "unmitigated audacity" to claim the Democrats balanced the budget. He accused the governor of being an "obstructionist" to the Legislature on fiscal policy.

Stevenson Coming

Meanwhile Democrats planned for their Saturday workshop and rally in Detroit featuring Adlai Stevenson.

Stevenson will address a party rally in Brodhead Naval Armory Saturday night. Democratic women will lead a workshop that afternoon.

"Sen. Homer Ferguson (R-Mich), speaking in Menominee, defended the abandonment of a rigid farm price support program by the Republican administration."

"Declining farm prices, which started to fall as early as February, 1951, are clean evidence that the rigid price support program will not produce adequate income for farmers," Ferguson said.

Police Bullet Fells Berserk Muskegon Woman With Shotgun

MUSKEGON (AP)—A police bullet felled a Muskegon woman early today after she apparently had gone berserk and fired a shotgun blast into a neighbor's home.

Police said Mrs. William Estes fired into the kitchen of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Scarnier, Sr., a pioneer Muskegon family and parents of the mayor of Montague, Mich.

No one was injured by the shotgun charge.

Officers Robert Spencer and William Harbitz were called to the Schurmer residence shortly after 6:30 a.m. They said Mrs. Estes was leaning against a tree with the shotgun leveled at them.

The two officers left their patrol car and took cover, calling for Mrs. Estes to drop the weapon. Spencer fired once, the bullet striking the woman in the chest.

She was described in critical condition at Hackley Hospital. Neighbors said Mrs. Estes had long been in ill health.

Auto Fatality Danger Lessens

CHICAGO (AP)—Month by month your chance of coming back alive from an automobile trip is getting better.

The National Safety Council reported today that August was the eighth month in a row in which traffic deaths have been cut.

The safety streak means a saving of almost 1,500 lives. At the end of August 1953 traffic deaths totaled 24,200; the same time this year they amounted to 22,780, a cut of 6 per cent.

August's toll of 3,330 was the lowest for the month since 1950 and a reduction of 10 per cent from August 1953.

"There is a real chance now to keep the record going for the remainder of the year," Ned H. Dearborn, council president, said. "The big danger now is the tricky fall season with its changing weather and earlier darkness."

One hundred eighty cities reported no death records for the eight months.

Burns Kill Farmer

Drenched With Gas; Assailant Unknown

PHOENIXVILLE, Pa. (AP)—A farmer has died of burns in Phoenixville hospital without identifying the man he said drenched him with gasoline.

Semon Bojeck, a Ukrainian who came to the United States in 1949, had told authorities he would name his assailant only when certain he would die.

But even though told Wednesday that the end was near, he kept his lips sealed.

Bojeck, with some help from interpreters, told state police he was alone in his home last Saturday when a man entered and threw a container of gasoline at him.

Then gasoline was set afire by a cigarette Bojeck was smoking.

Troopers Arrest State Attorney

EAST LANSING (AP)—Charles M. A. Martin, an assistant state attorney general, was "stopped" or "arrested" by state police early Wednesday.

State police said Martin was arrested on a drunk driving charge. Martin denied this.

State troopers said they arrested Martin at 12:20 a. m., yesterday near East Lansing on a drunk driving charge.

Martin, who is in charge of the attorney general department's Detroit office, said on the other hand that he had been "stopped" and "not arrested formally."

He denied he had been intoxicated. He said he had "a few drinks" in downtown Lansing before starting a return trip to Detroit.

"As far as I know," he said, "I was not arrested formally and there were no charges."

The police report differed. It said Martin was arrested. State police headquarters said a formal complaint was filed later with Justice Court.

By that time, however, Martin had left Lansing.

Arthur T. Iverson, deputy attorney general, interceded for Martin at police headquarters. He secured Martin's release on his Iverson's guarantee that Martin would appear later if called.

Martin is a former advisor to the State Liquor Control Commission.

LANSING (AP)—The State Tourist Council announced today that it will ask the Legislature for at least $100,000 more than the present appropriation to advertise the state's tourist attractions during the next fiscal year. The current budget of $331,000 provides $246,000 for advertising.

Powers To End Occupation Of Bonn Republic

LONDON (AP)—A German spokesman announced today the nine-power conference on freeing and rearming Germany has approved a compromise plan for establishing and controlling a European arms pool.

The plan, put forward by Belgian Foreign Minister Paul-Henri Spaak, would divide responsibility for safeguards on runaway German rearmament between a new seven-nation European alliance and the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO).

Previously, France had insisted on the seven-nation authority exercising controls while West Germany—with British and American backing—held out for NATO supervision.

The German spokesman told newsmen the Spaak compromise "met with the approval of Dr. (German Chancellor Konrad) Adenauer and (French Premier Pierre) Mendes-France and was also acceptable to the other delegations." He described the Spaak memorandum put before the conference today as "excellent."

By EDDY GILMORE

LONDON (AP)—The nine Western foreign ministers conferred in an atmosphere of elation and optimism today as agreement on West German rearmament for the defense of the West appeared near.

They met for a two-hour session this morning and were to resume negotiations after lunch.

In the late afternoon, U. S. Secretary of State Dulles, British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden, French Premier Pierre Mendes-France and West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer arranged to confer together on the companion issue of granting West Germany complete sovereignty.

May Finish Tonight

Adenauer predicted the delegates would finish their task tonight. Others, notably the French, thought the details would take somewhat longer to work out.

A conference source said the ministers spent most of the morning discussing a compromise proposal submitted by Belgian Foreign Minister Paul-Henri Spaak on the crucial question of the control of German rearmament.

The plan was reported to call for sharing control between the proposed new seven-nation European alliance and the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO).

Successful conclusion of these and the companion talks on German rearmament is expected to bring these results:

1. The United States, Britain and France will announce their intention to end the occupation of West Germany, giving the Bonn republic virtually full control over both external and internal affairs.
2. The Germans then will issue a declaration offering to join a proposed new seven-nation European alliance and the 14-nation North Atlantic Treaty Organization.
3. Under a reported compromise plan being worked out, the European alliance will organize controls and armaments of member nations—Britain, France, Italy, West Germany, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg.
4. The administration of these controls—primarily designed to prevent any runaway German rearmament—would be in the hands of NATO.

Youth Center To Open Monday

The formal opening of Club 314, Escanaba Youth Center, will be held Monday evening, Oct. 4 from 7 to 10 o'clock.

Art Peterson, city recreation director, has announced that Mrs. Bertha LaChapelle will again act as director of Club 314. Francis Lunenburg will be the assistant director and Paul Vardigan director of boys and girls basketball. The recreation director and the leaders mentioned have been with the recreation department a total of 44 years.

This is the 10th year Club 314 has been in operation as a youth center. Previous to that time the center was operated as a recreation center for 7 years. The center, located at 330 S. 14th St., has been completely redecorated again this year. The basketball court located on the second floor has been re-finished and varnished. A new archery back-stop has been built along the entire west side of the gym for the popular Senior and Junior archery program. The new back-stop is large enough to accommodate approximately 12 archers at one time. The floors have been re-finished downstairs along with painting of various rooms through the building. The girls' powder room has also been redecorated. The ping-pong tables have been re-built and the pool tables re-finished with new felt. Many other minor improvements have been made at the center.

The club is open to all boys and girls 12 years of age through 18. Approximately 450 youngsters are expected to take out membership cards this year. Youngsters may buy membership cards at the youth center starting Friday from 3:30 through 5:00. Mrs. LaChapelle will again be in charge of the membership cards.

Activities available at the club are basketball, archery, dancing, weight-lifting, ping pong, pool, boxing reading room, parties and many table games. The attendance at Club 314 last year was 27,552 over an eight month period. Competent supervision, varied activities and clean attractive facilities are the reasons Club 314 has been so successful and continues to hold the interest of the young people of the community.

Club 314 will be open from 3:30 to 5:00 Monday through Friday and 7:00 to 10:00 Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Friday evenings. No activities are scheduled on Thursday evening which is traditionally reserved for church programs. The time schedule will again be in effect this year with all boys and girls 12 & 13 years of age leaving the youth center at 9:00. Boys and girls 14 years and over may remain until closing time which is 9:50 p. m. This ruling will be strictly enforced by the director of the club.

The general public is invited to the formal opening of Club 314 and all parents who have children attending the youth center are urged to attend.

Firm All Set To Spin It's Tales On Records

By DIAL TORGERSON

AP Newsfeatures

LOS ANGELES—Alice, the girl from Wonderland, will soon be at the bookstores in a new guise—flat, round and revolving.

A Los Angeles and St. Joseph, Mich., firm has found a way to make a very, very long-playing record, squeezing the rendition of an entire book on three or four tiny discs. "Alice in Wonderland" is one of the four "talking books" the company is producing now. Already on the market is a recording of the entire New Testament.

"This thing can raise the cultural level of the whole country," Raymond Tierstein, vice president of Audio Books, explains enthusiastically. "We thought of it at first as something for the blind. Now we see it appeals to a big segment of the public."

"About half the people in the country are audio-minded instead of visual-minded. They grasp things they hear, instead of things they see. That's why they don't like to read. But they like to listen."

A lot of engineering had to be done before the recordings could go on the market. When the Highwayman comes riding, riding, up to the old inn door, he'll be doing it at 16 and 2/3 r. p. m.—the speed the firm finally decided was the best for spinning their tales.

After they perfected the record, the manufacturers had to invent a device adapting a regular three-speed turntable to the slower revolutions of the book discs. They have a gadget they believe will do the trick.

Last year, as soon as Tierstein and company president, J. L. D. Morrison became convinced they had conquered the technical difficulties, they started a massive project: recording the New Testament.

Fire Inspections To Start Oct. 4

The annual fire hazard inspection of Escanaba business places will start Monday, Oct. 4, a date marking the opening of Fire Prevention Week, it was announced today by Fire Chief Nels Bergeon.

Purpose of Fire Prevention Week is to direct public attention to the rules for fire safety, and to gain the cooperation of tenants and property owners in following practices which may save lives and will make the city a safer place in which to live. Fire Prevention Week is observed nationally by proclamation of the President.

Fire Chief Bergeon said that industries have been previously inspected for fire safety and that all business places in the city will be checked for fire hazards during the coming week.

It is impossible for the firemen to inspect all of the homes in the city; therefore residents should "police" their own dwelling to determine if hazards exist. And if there are dangerous fire conditions, it is the responsibility of the individual to correct them, said Fire Chief Bergeon.

Some of the basic rules of fire safety are as follows:

Keep basements, attics, and closets clear of rubbish.

Place matches out of reach of youngsters.

Be careful in using matches and cigarettes around the house. There should be a supply of ash trays in every room in the house. Do not smoke in bed!

If your electric wiring is old, have it checked by an electrician. Do not overload electric circuits.

Chimneys should be in good condition. Be sure the smoke pipe from furnace to chimney is safe. Never allow paper or trash to accumulate around the furnace.

Gen. Maitland To Speak Here In Church Rally

Brig. Gen. Lester J. Maitland, Michigan director of aeronautics and civil defense, who announced Sept. 21 that he intends to retire within a year to study for the Episcopal ministry, yesterday accepted an invitation to speak in Escanaba.

General Maitland will address the congregation of St. Stephen's Episcopal Church and their guests at a dinner meeting to be held in the Escanaba Masonic Temple late in October or early in November.

The dinner, which constitutes a fall rally, regular parish supper and signals the start of the Every Member Canvass, is being scheduled for the Masonic Temple dining hall because the Church's Guild Hall can not accommodate more than 125 persons. At least 200 are expected to hear General Maitland.

Although a definite date has not been selected, General Maitland in all probability will be here on a Saturday night, Oct. 16, 23, 30 or Nov. 6. He said he would notify church officials of the exact date within the next few days.

The General has been accepted as a postulant by the Rt. Rev. Herman R. Page, of Marquette, Bishop of the Episcopal Diocese of Northern Michigan, and has been studying under the Rev. George Selway, rector of St. Paul's Church in Lansing.

He has been an Episcopalian for 25 years and decided to enter the ministry last year. A nationally known figure, he served as military aide to the late Brig. Gen. Billy Mitchell from 1921 to 1925 and was commander of Clark Field in Manila when the Japanese attacked in 1941.

He was the first pilot to fly the Pacific from California to Hawaii. This was accomplished in 1927, the same year that Lindbergh flew the Atlantic.

Deadline Near For Voter Registration

Escanaba citizens who have not yet registered to vote in the November general election were reminded today by City Clerk George Harvey that the deadline for registration is at 8 p. m. Monday, Oct. 4.

The clerk's office in city hall will be open to 5 p. m. Friday, closed Saturday, and will remain open to 8 p. m. Monday to receive registrations.

It is not necessary to re-register if you have voted within the past two years, according to the city clerk.

Christmas Comes To Dying Girl, 7, In Bettendorf, Ia.

BETTENDORF, Iowa (AP)—"Merry Christmas, Linda," laughed the merry fellow in the bright red suit, "Merry Christmas!"

Christmas came early for young Linda Cargill because doctors don't expect the 7-year-old girl to live until Dec. 25. She is incurably ill of leukemia, they say.

The excitement of Christmas filled the small family home Wednesday night. If there were any tears among friends and neighbors they were carefully hidden.

The room was literally filled with packages and gifts from all over the country. The festivities centered around the gaily colored Christmas tree which Linda helped decorate.

Wearing a crisp, new pink dress and with a ribbon in her blonde hair, little Linda cried with joy when Santa Claus burst into the room.

Santa handed the frail child a lovely bird cage with a live parakeet inside.

"Oh, Santa, another bird!" she said.

Toys, candy, gifts galore were pulled from Santa's bulging pack.

Another brought a doll for Linda's rapidly growing nursery.

Another brought a cake with a doll resembling Linda on top.

"That looks like me," she beamed.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cargill have not told Linda and her two brothers, Robert, 5, and Tommy, 2, that she will die. The early Christmas was explained by telling her she might be in the hospital when the real one comes.

Veteran Killed

DETROIT (AP)—A recently discharged overseas Army veteran was killed and his English bride seriously injured when struck by a car while crossing a Detroit street Wednesday night. He was Robert Hamilton, 28, of Detroit.

Police held Ralph D. Yankee, 35, assistant golf professional at the Country Club of Detroit, driver of the car. Police said Yankee admitted he had been drinking.

Be generous in judging the faults of others—most of us can only see our shadows.

Albert Perry Jr. Dies In Rochester

Albert Joseph Perry Jr., 56, of 2307 Ludington St., died Wednesday at Methodist Hospital in Rochester, Minn., where he had been a patient over five weeks. Previous to that he was confined to St. Francis Hospital following an automobile accident July 31.

He was born in Spalding Aug. 29, 1898, and lived there until he moved to Escanaba nine years ago. He operated Perry's Bar a number of years.

He was a member of St. Francis Xavier Church, Spalding, Escanaba Lodge 354, B.P.O.E., the United Commercial Travelers, Escanaba Aerie 1088, Fraternal Order of Eagles, and the Loyal Order of Moose of Norway.

Surviving are his wife, the former Myrtle Groff, two sons, Stewart of Spalding and Douglas, Escanaba; his father, Albert Perry Sr., Spalding; one brother and four sisters, Alec, Mrs. Arthur (Virginia) Hupp, Mrs. Arthur (Eva) Gulbranson, Mrs. Arthur (Lillian) Juneau and Mrs. Earl (Mae) Hupp, all of Spalding and three grandchildren.

The body was taken to the Anderson Funeral Home where friends may call beginning this evening at 7. Funeral services will be held at 10 a. m. Saturday at DETROIT (AP)—The Michigan Liquor Control Commission handed down fines and suspensions for seven licenses, including six in Detroit. A fine of $150 and a 15-day suspension were given Anthony and Doris Shumsky, operators of Tony's Food Market, Traverse City, on a charge of selling to minors.

Rain Dissipates Fog And Frost

Unwelcome as it may seem to some people, today's rain did have some good effects. It killed the chance of a general frost this weekend and washed out the fog which lay over most of the Upper Peninsula last night.

In general the visibility during the night was reduced to 1/4 mile or less in some areas. The rain began with a few scattered drops at 7:05 this morning and gradually increased to a general rain.

A cloudy condition will continue through tomorrow and hold the temperature constant. It will begin dropping this afternoon and reach 44 by morning. Very little warming will occur during the day.

The cold weather has been slowed up somewhat but the time to put on gloves and heavy coats is not far off. In some states it has already arrived as evidenced by these temperatures: Salt Lake City 30; Ely, Nev. 21; Elko, Nev. 18; Big Piney, Wyo. 14.

The folks in Great Falls, Montana and Sheridan, Wyo. used their snow shovels again yesterday.

Ford River To Vote Nov. 2 On Electric Power Line Franchise

Voters of Ford River Township will vote Nov. 2 on the question of renewing a power line franchise for the Upper Michigan Power & Light Company.

The right to run poles and electric lines through Ford River Township was granted the Power Company 30 years ago and the franchise is now up for renewal for an additional 30 years. The franchise application has been approved by the Township Board and now requires a vote of the people.

The question will be submitted to the voters on a special ballot.

The world would be better off if everyone who says "I do" did.

Nature Has Homework For Mom And For Dad

A DAISY!—A little girl wants to know.

By DION HENDERSON
AP Newsfeatures

Every parent must pride himself—or herself—on maintaining before the little ones as long as possible the idle fiction of being an all seeing, all knowing oracle.

When the family trail leads out of doors, this natural adult yearning is liable to make the parent in question work like the dickens.

And when the youngsters start asking questions about wildflowers, old Dad is likely to be faced with a grim prospect—either burn the midnight oil to keep ahead of them, or have them see him suddenly as an uninformed lout.

It's astonishing, how many years you can tromp heedlessly on little posies—without seeing them as such, much less knowing the least thing about them.

You may be surprised to learn, for instance, that some wildflowers entitled to the name have very poor social standing. But some blacksheep such as the burdock are members of old and honored families.

Even the dandelion, which flaunts its yellow flag of defiance from your lawn despite your most earnest efforts, has an aristocratic pedigree—"dents de lion," said the gentlemen of old Bretagne bestowing a name descriptive of its jagged leaf.

Many of our present American wildflowers are about as native as most other residents—they came on the boats from Europe, and not all as first class passengers, either.

Some, of course, were imported as garden flowers and thrived. But more came by accident, in the earth ballast of colonial trading vessels—including some proud items like Kentucky bluegrass and clover.

But the fields, and particularly the woods, have their lovely

By NOAH HALPER
PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Inez de Koning admits that she doesn't exactly like living alone, but the 12-year-old Dutch girl says she manages to keep occupied enough to prevent boredom and loneliness. Inez, who came to this country less than three years ago, has an apartment in a central Philadelphia hotel where she cooks and keeps house for herself, when she's not in school. She has been living there, alone, since her father, Theodore de Koning, an electrical engineer, returned to The Netherlands for a visit more than a month ago and then found himself barred by immigration rules from immediate reentry to the United States. Blonde, blue-eyed Inez had gone to camp for the summer. She got back on Aug. 21. Since then, with Mrs. Agnes Allen, the hotel manager, keeping a motherly eye on her, Inez has made her own way. Inez is a "very independent and self-sustaining child," says Mrs. Allen. The girl attends Friends Select school, a private institution run by the Quakers and has made many friends in her three school years. She passes part of her time with them and devotes many hours to reading and studying.

SUBBING FOR THE REAL THING — School children in Colonie, N. Y., are probably waiting anxiously for their new school building to be completed, but their schooling continues. Melchoir Makes Noise, Maria Cracks The Whip

By JOY MILLER
Newsfeatures Writer
"Wives," says Maria Melchoir, "can manage husbands better than anyone else."
The man she manages, with her 103 pounds, is Lauritz Melchoir, 6 foot 3½ Danish tenor, who weighs in well over 200. A pretty, fragile looking woman, she has been married to Melchoir for 29 years but still doesn't look a lot over 30. A regular on the "best dressed" lists, she doesn't look as if she could tell a party of the first part from a garden party. But she's a formidable opponent at contract-signing time, with sharp blue eyes that don't miss a thing in the fine print and a mind that clicks like an electric adding machine.

"A wife has no other clients and can devote all her time to her husband's affairs," she goes on nodding her blonde head for emphasis. "It is a very good combination."

"You take my Lauritz. He's very good. He says, 'I make the noise and she does the rest.' I have no trouble with him at all. If I did, I would hit him."

The towering Melchoir smiles proudly and calls her "kleinchen," which in Danish means "little one."

She literally fell into his life one day in 1924. He was sitting in a Munich garden when Maria Hacker, an intrepid German actress doing her own stunt scenes in a movie, parachuted into a tree in front of him. They were wed two years later.

"I liked him when I looked at him," she says. "He told me later he didn't know if I was a boy or girl, the way I was dressed. 'Not many men meet their wives that way, like a parcel coming down in the air,' he told me."

She gave up her career after their marriage. She has helped Melchoir break a lot of traditions in the 11 years since he first appeared on the radio as a comedian and actor, the first Metropolitan Opera star to enter the popular entertainment field. In all he has had nine successful careers: opera, concert, radio, TV, recordings, motion pictures, vaudeville, nightclubs, stage.

Now he is in a musical extravaganza called "Arabian Nights" at Long Island's Jones Beach, sharing the limelight with a huge mechanical whale.

"And he loves it," says his fond wife. "Whatever he does, he loves. He's just like a child."

The Melchoirs seem always to have had a rollicking time. Or maybe it's the way in which she tells it.

"When we first came to America, it was more important that Lauritz finish his voice study than that we have a rich life. So we brought a music teacher from London, the best."

"He agreed to come if he could bring his butler and stay at the Waldorf-Astoria hotel. To pay for them, we had to take a tiny apartment and I did my own cooking, although I never had done any before."

"One summer we took a vacation in Europe and asked both teacher and butler to go along so Lauritz could keep on studying. Well, we had to travel second class to pay for the teacher and his butler first class."

"The teacher was always very gracious to us, even when we were second class passengers, but his butler snubbed us every chance he got."

Durocher Not Leaving, Says Owner Of Giants

NEW YORK (AP)—Leo Durocher will be back as manager of the New York Giants next year despite rumors to the contrary, owner Horace Stoneham said today. "I'm getting a little tired of these rumors," Stoneham said. "He (Durocher) signed a two-year contract and it has a year to go. Anybody who says otherwise does not know what he's talking about." There have been reports that Durocher, discontented over so-called front office second-guessing, might quit baseball after this year to go into television. Durocher also has denied this.

HUNGRY BEARS

DETOUR, Mich. (AP)—A shortage of natural food has made bold invaders of bears in Michigan's Upper Peninsula. It's not unusual for bears to forage through garbage dumps in the area, but recently they attacked and killed a yearling calf. Conservation officers now are warning all persons to keep their distance from all wild animals.

Ex-Pilot Makes Happy Landing
As Wife, Mother And Costumer

By ROBERT L. SHAFFER
AP Newsfeatures

YELLOW SPRINGS, Ohio—Says Shylock: "You knew . . . of my daughter's flight."

Says Salerio: "I . . . knew the tailor that made the wings she flew withal."

In the highly successful Shakespeare Festival under the stars at Antioch College here, the tailor who outfits Shylock, Salerio, the daughter and all the other characters, got her costuming experience making clothing from drapes in wartime England. She was there delivering fighter planes to combat units and doing other flying chores.

Mrs. Roberta Leveaux has been grounded voluntarily since that 1942 flying experience. Now she's as busy as a whole squadron, rearing a family and keeping a family and keeping some 40 actors outfitted in rich-looking Renaissance costumes.

Flying Secretary
Her previous experience in show business, was a flying show in California in 1940, shortly after she took to the air via a government civilian pilot training course. In the professional air shows she did a solo strip tease performance. She would climb into the plane fully dressed—right down to the spike-heeled shoes and the gloves—take off, and start dropping articles of clothing over the side for the benefit of the audience.

The climax was when she landed, descending from the plane still fully clothed.

In 1941 she changed her act to that of flying secretary, piloting an official of a firm building airfields and—on the ground only—taking dictation.

THE PLAY'S THE THING . . . Roberta Leveaux, flying costume designer, fits a wig on Jack Bittner, New York actor, for his role as the evil spirit, Caliban, in the Antioch College presentation of "The Tempest."

In the fall of 1941, Mrs. Leveaux—then Roberta Sand z of Northport, Wis.—was to be one of 23 American women pilots led by Jacqueline Cochran. Assigned to the Air Transport Auxiliary, the women handled routine flights, relieving men for combat duty. Roberta spent most of her 18 months of ATA flying in Spitfires, delivering new ones to combat units bringing back planes that needed maintenance. She also did some air chaffering for visiting VIPs.

Costume Festival
Roberta voluntarily clipped her wings in September 1942 when she married Peter Leveaux of Kensington, London, then a major in the King's Royal Hussars. Leveaux now is eastern sales manager for the Jostens Manufacturing Co. of Owatonna, Minn.

Roberta has costumed all three seasons of the Antioch festival, starting with the "Chronicles of the Kings" (Kings John, Richard II and III, Henry IV, V, VI and VIII) of the first season, through the Greek and Roman plays of Shakespeare in 1953 and the current series.

Dressing up actors while rearing a family is sometimes "hectic and hard," Roberta admits. Often her three children eat in restaurants.

"But they eat with me," she says. "They seem to thrive on it, and I guess I really love it all. Perhaps the years I spent flying acted as a 'hyper' shot, for I must be busy to be happy."

Troops Leave Korea

PUSAN, Korea (AP)—Shouting, snake-dancing students demonstrated against the withdrawal of U. S. troops from Korea in a major redeployment program. Placard-bearing students voted to call upon President Syngman Rhee to request the United States to cancel plans to withdraw additional troops from Korea. Four U. S. divisions ultimately will be redeployed.

Prison Survey Payment Illegal

LANSING (AP)—A contract to survey sites for a minimum security state prison last year was invalid and $28,000 was paid on the contract by the state illegally, an attorney general's opinion held.

Atty. Gen. Frank G. Millard said that a $30,000 contract to Leinweber, Yamasaki and Hellmuth, architects of Detroit, went beyond the intent of the Legislature when it appropriated the money.

He added that the contract had not been approved by the attorney general's office as required by the State Administrative Board.

The Legislature appropriated $75,000 in 1953 for "a site survey and preliminary sketches for new medium security prison at Ionia for 1,200 men."

The architects hired Chester J. Clark and Associates of Grand Rapids to assist them. They turned in a study of all the penal facilities in the state, a recommendation for an 800-man minimum security prison and surveys of sites in Arenac, Kent, Livingston, Macomb, Manistee, Saginaw and Washtenaw counties.

The documents in the case, the opinion said, "leads to a definite and logical conviction that certain officials in the executive department of state government deliberately determined to and did utilize a specific appropriation of the Legislature made for one certain purpose to carry out different purposes which they were desirous of accomplishing."

The administrative board paid out the $28,000 before legislative leaders began to question validity of the contract. Invoices covering the balance of the contract were held up to await the opinion. It was asked by Sen. Elmer R. Porter (R-Blissfield).

Cartoonist Who Lost Both Arms Drawing Better Than Ever Now

GERMAN CARTOONIST Carl Fischer, who lost both arms during an air raid, refused to give up and now is drawing the most popular comic strip in Germany.

By HANNS NEUBOURG

AP Newsfeatures
FRANKFURT, Germany — The train had just rolled into the Fulda station when the sirens sounded that January day in 1945.

The passengers rushed off in panic to the nearest bunkers as the first bombs dropped.

Cartoonist Carl Fischer was caught in the middle of the street. Splinters slashed the main arteries of both his arms and cut into his legs. At a hospital, both arms were amputated.

"I thought that was the finish. My whole career seemed ruined," Fischer says. "But I did not think that way very long. I was determined that I must find a way to draw again."

Fischer had been a well-known cartoonist for German illustrated magazines and the art editor of one of Germany's biggest, Frankfurter Illustrierte.

Still hardly able to sit up, Fischer tried to draw holding a brush with his lips, but found out he did not have sufficient strength. Then he decided to hold the brush in his teeth.

"I did not have to learn it, I simply could do it."

His first such drawings were two post cards to his friends, for which he used his clinical chart as a pad.

"The drawings came off naturally. I realized then you do not draw with your arms but with your brains."

"My teeth - written signature for example, bore the same features as my old one. I wrote letters to my friends and they did not realize I had lost my arms."

He took up his work again as soon as he was released from hospital, drawing again for his old magazine.

"Many said that my drawings were better than before, that they were fresher and more at ease. I certainly did not do my cartoons with any great effort."

On Christmas 1952, Fischer originated the biggest hit of his life, a comic strip called "Oscar the Cat."

Oscar, with a merrily red-and-white striped sweater and a cheerful family life, got tremendous response from readers.

Now completing his second year, Oscar has drawn fan mail from all parts of the world, including Ecuador and Japan. There was even a proposal that

THE STORY: Somehow the mysterious death of Angelica Jones, sister-in-law of Jim Dunn's client, Mrs. Kit Carlson, seems to tie in with an unsolved death on the West Coast. Even the woman sheriff, Mrs. Toby Argyle, thinks Angelica's death may be "another" accident. But Jim Dunn does not think it is an accident. Someone had moved the body.

XVI
Mrs. Gelstrap whined, "I'm just a working woman. I do what I'm told. The missus said for me to come to Denver. I took the train because I don't like to get off the ground. She met me at the depot, brought me here."

"You've never been here before?"
"No."
"You're lying," Agnes said wearily. "You were up here shortly after the wedding. For heaven's sake, if you must lie, do it with a little chance of success. Around here, we know what goes on. Particularly about anyone connected with the Carlsons. The Carlsons just about support the whole community of Creek Junction. We don't cater to tourists; we cater to the Carlsons and it's a year-round job." For a moment her lips set in even grimmer lines, then assumed a twist as if she had tasted vinegar. "Now then, Mrs. Gelstrap, you paid a flying visit to the place last summer. That was when we in Creek Junction understood Peter Carlson and his new wife were going to honeymoon here. At least, in the little cabin. Peter Carlson went to considerable trouble fixing up that place."

Jim Dunn was beginning to believe the sheriff really considered the death of Angelica an accident. At least she was giving out considerable information. He had learned why the caretaker's cabin was fixed up the way it was. It was intended for a honeymoon house.
"I told the missus about this place," Mrs. Gelstrap said. She showed no trace of embarrassment at having been caught in a lie, merely retreated to another position. "She decided she wanted to go to California for the honeymoon instead. Why, there wasn't even anyplace fixed for me here then!"

"Might have been the general idea," Agnes suggested. "Any particular reason why you should have to be along on the honeymoon?"

"The missus depends on me," Sue Gelstrap said smugly. "Too bad for her," Agnes snapped. "Especially if you go around lapping up all the liquor in sight." Mrs. Gelstrap giggled. "There's still plenty if you want a little snifter, Sheriff."

Jim realized a beautiful enmity was developing between the cook and the sheriff.

Feet pounded across the porch and the living room door pushed open. Two men came in, and one of them was the doctor. He had been conditioned so he expected the doctor to be a woman.

Sheriff Agnes wasted no time in talk. "In the basement, Doctor," she said. "I'll want to know if the injuries causing death could have been made by the fall of the elevator."

The doctor nodded, turned around.
"I didn't hear you drive up," Agnes said.

"Should have. You know the racket my car makes." The doctor kept on going this time.

"Score one point for you, Mr. Dunn," Agnes said. "You can't hear a car drive up. Now, suppose you go to the little cabin. Stay there with your wife until I get around to you again."

Jim Dunn told his wife of Miss Wister's story, of the peculiar way she had acted. "I don't get it," he finished. "Honestly, she acted as if she was mad at me about something."

"Probably was," Nancy said. "You snapped at her, from what she said. Probably she'd been doing something for your benefit so naturally she's angry."

The door of the cottage pushed open without a warning knock and Agnes Argyle walked in. "Well, Mr. Dunn. You decided yet whether or not I've sold out to the Carlsons?"

Jim was getting tired of having his thoughts explained to him. "Have you?" he snapped.

Agnes looked at Nancy. Her smile softened the bitter planes of her gaunt face. "And this is your wife?"

Jim made the introduction. After that he was ignored. The two women appeared to come to an unspoken understanding.

Jim wondered if it would make any difference if he stood on his head.

Agnes said, "Suppose you tell me about this, Mrs. Dunn."

"Nancy," she corrected. "Yes. Tell me, Nancy, all about your contacts with Mrs. Kit. Right from the beginning."

Jim coughed. "Just a minute before we go into that."

Agnes Argyle said, "Go away. Go help the men or something. Your wife and I want to talk."

Jim went into the basement. The body was gone. The elevator had been raised another foot or so. Blood on the hard-packed dirt floor was darkening and hardening. From the living room above came the shrill sound of a ringing telephone. The floor above creaked with the passage of a heavy body.

Jim borrowed a flashlight from the deputy, returned to the elevator. He directed the light under the partially raised platform. There were marks there all right.

Self-Service Ice Machine Startles

ANNVILLE, Pa. (AP)—Miss Barbara M. Grosky of Annnville, suffered a chilling experience while trying to get ice from a self-service dispensing machine.

Instead of ice coming down the chute when she deposited her quarter, a cold hand appeared and beckoned to her.

Miss Grosky, a bit unnerved, ran to a nearby service station where keys for the machine were kept and then watched a service attendant open the ice-dispenser.

Inside was Ralph W. Hopple of Annnville, who was repairing the big machine when its door swung shut, trapping him.

indications of dragging. He knew now why Angelica's clothing had been so dirt covered.

Let's attack
the problems

•not the schools!

As millions of children return to school, the Ladies' Home Journal offers a full review of the problems that beset educators and parents!

What do we want of our schools?

"Our school problems, financial and philosophical, must be solved by informed citizens. We offer these stories and articles, not as a cross section or endorsed solution, but to stimulate those who must grapple with similar situations in their own communities."

Thomas Dunlop
Ruth Blackman Gault
EDITORS

This month, in a round-table discussion with Journal editors, six important educators, headed by A. Whitney Griswold, President of Yale, speak out frankly on questions like these which plague their profession, and endanger the future of our children.

- What caused the mounting crisis in public education?
- Do children really fail to learn to read?
- Should all children be promoted every year, regardless of progress?
- Should all high-school courses be watered down to the lowest level?

The Journal brings this challenging and controversial forum to you and millions of other American women because women have more influence on our educational system than men do—much more.

You'll want to read this entire October issue which features many articles and stories discussing problems affecting parents and educators today.

Housing Shortage Acute In Japan

TOKYO (AP)—Nine years after World War II Japan still is short 3,125,000 houses, says a white paper of the Construction Ministry.

This shortage persists despite the fact that Japan has rebuilt 3,690,000 homes since the guns ceased firing, the Ministry reports.

One thing that has prevented a better job of erasing the ravages of war has been that 2,880,000 dwelling units were lost to fire, flood and old age in that same nine-year period.

The government plans to build 40,000 new homes in the present fiscal year, including 10,000 units for industrial workers.

Write-In Winners In Wrong Party

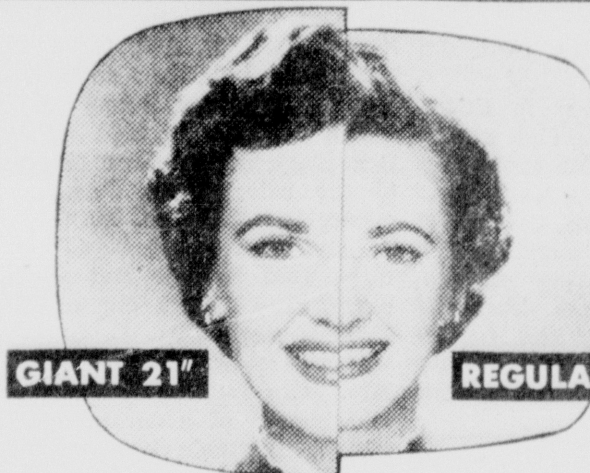

EMPORIA, Kan. (AP)—It took more than a flip of a coin to settle some ties in the primary election balloting for Democratic precinct committee posts in Lyon County.

Write-in votes were made for several jobs for which no regular candidate had filed. In some instances tie votes resulted. It was discovered belatedly that three of the write-in-winners after the coins were tossed were registered Republicans. The job of filling the vacancies was turned over to the county Democratic committee.

People who are inclined to look over the affairs of others are very apt to overlook their own.

Lotion Helps Dry Skin

By ALICIA HART
NEA Beauty Editor

Towards the end of summer, your skin may have become somewhat leathery in texture as well as deeply tanned. A rough-looking skin is most unattractive and may even lead to permanent skin damage.

Even the best tan is insufficient reward if you must sacrifice smooth, petal-soft skin. And those extra daily baths you've been taking mean your skin has had more doses of soap than it requires during any other time.

With soap, salt water, sun and sea breezes taking its toll of your arms, legs, face, neck and shoulders, you'll need to take special care to restore your skin to its healthy, pampered condition.

One of the best ways to give your body (not just your face and hands) the special conditioning it needs is to nourish it with a lanolin-rich body lotion. To neutralize the drying effects summer weather has had on your skin choose one that's made with a soap-free base.

Smooth the lotion on your skin just after your bath and whenever you can. And its makers claim it leaves no artificial film on the skin as it penetrates quickly.

You can use this same lotion for such special grooming jobs as smoothing ragged cuticle skin, hangnails, hard skin of calluses and rough elbows, heels and knees.

If you lubricate nails or screws with soap, you may find it easier than usual to drive them into wood or plaster.

To soften a thickened skin caused by weeks in the sun, this girl (above) uses a lanolin-rich body lotion after her bath.

Road Promoters Will Hear Knox

Victor A. Knox of Sault Ste. Marie, 11th district congressman, will be the principal speaker at a joint session of the Munising-Alger and Top O' Lake Chamber of Commerce at Jackpine Lodge tonight.

The meeting has been called to discuss improvement of Highway M-94 in a 15-mile section in the Hiawatha National Forest. Federal aid for the work is sought. Over 20 miles of the highway running north to Munising is only dirt road and in spring is impassable, advocates have pointed out.

Members of road commissions in both Alger and Schoolcraft county are expected for the meeting. Fred Helman, C-C secretary here states, as well as numerous others interested in promoting the improvement.

Dinner will be served at 7 and the congressman's speech will follow.

The exhibit is designed to promote interest in establishment of county and regional libraries, and will be equipped with about 1200 books, recordings and magazines. Children and adults are invited to view the exhibits. There will be no charge, the library reports.

The bookmobile later will stop at Doyle, Mueller and Germfask townships.

City Will Put Water Tank Back In Operation Shortly

Cleaning and painting on the inside of the water storage tank at the Indian River bridge was expected to be completed today and the tank will probably be put back in operation tonight, Orson Livermore, city manager reports.

John K. Roman of Escanaba holds contract for the work on a bid price of $1275. He started work Sept. 13 and spent the first week cleaning the inside.

The tank, which will continue to be used when the new pumping station is completed, is to be cleaned and painted on the outside as well. The exterior of the tower also is to be refinished.

The project is slated to be completed in November, Livermore stated.

Two low-lift pumps and a high lift pump are in operation at the pumping station now and feed into the storage tank. Later, after tests on the first pump are completed, another high lift unit is to be installed. Its capacity will be determined on the basis of tests on the first unit, Livermore said.

The city now is laying conduit for control and alarm systems in the new water pumping facility, and is awaiting delivery of an automatic control system for the pumps.

Complaints About
Heat Are Ended

ANDERSON, Ind. (AP)—Mr. and Mrs. Richard Garringer have stopped complaining about the hot weather.

An explosion believed caused by gas in the basement shook their home but the Garringers and their two small children escaped injury.

Firemen said windows open because of the heat prevented a worse explosion.

Ask Change In Milk Ordinance

The Delta-Menominee Health Unit through Dr. O. S. Hult, city health officer, has suggested a change in the local milk ordinance and public hearing on the matter will be held at the next meeting of the City Commission on Monday, Oct. 11.

Recommended is a provision that before issuance of a license each year all employees of the dairy be examined for tuberculosis and certification of this be made at the time the license application is made. This would also apply to all persons handling the milk.

Road Program

City Manager H. J. Henrikson told commissioners that he expects the road contractor who will do the blacktopping to arrive about the first of the month to top about 10 blocks of street here. As much as can be done in the good weather remaining will be carried out and the contractor will leave the equipment in Gladstone over winter and complete the program in the spring.

City crews have graded and graveled the surfaces and they have been traffic packed in preparation for the blacktopping. A number of other street sections were done recently or are in process of preparation. These must pack for a year or more before they will be ready for surfacing.

Reports On Meet

Gordon Kelley, who represented the City Commission at the Michigan Harbor and Waterways Association meeting at Muskegon recently recommended the city join the association. The annual fee is $100 but various benefits will be derived.

Among these are the assistance of experts in planning harbor improvement and expansion and also competent advice and assistance in obtaining federal financial assistance in such improvements.

Mayor Rex Stowe suggested the city contact State Highway officials with the view of obtaining early action on the four-lane highway between Gladstone and Escanaba.

Commissioner Kelley urged that turn markers be painted on Delta Ave., at several intersections in an effort to prevent or reduce the corner-cutting of motorists.

Sodality Formed By 8th Graders

Students of the eighth grade of All Saints' School reorganized their unit of the Sodality of the Blessed Virgin at a meeting held in their classroom yesterday.

Following the usual preliminaries of organization the group elected the following to serve as their spiritual leaders in the unit for the current school year: Barbara Farrell, president; Pamela Burcar, vice president; Sandra Girard secretary, and Billy Sinclair, treasurer.

City Briefs

Mr. and Mrs. John DeYonke and family have returned to Marquette after weekending here at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Kamel DeYonke, parents of John.

Miss Nancy Holm and Miss Nina Malnor left Wednesday noon for the Youth Camp at Fortune Lake near Crystal Falls where they will attend a school for Sunday School Teachers of the First Lutheran church.

C. C. Schuler and daughter Vivian have returned from Rapid City, Mich., where they spent the summer on his farm.

Social

Dessert Bridge

Mrs. Lowell Stude entertained her bridge club Tuesday evening at her home on Montana Ave. A dessert luncheon was served before the start of play. High score went to Mrs. Stude as she led the 100 honor award. Mrs. W. G. Ward was second. Miss Nettie DeVet was a guest of the club.

Purse Finder Keeps Reward

JOHNSTOWN, Pa. (AP) — The unidentified person who found Rose Kitchner's purse, apparently felt it was worth $20 to the owner to get it back. The purse, containing $90, was returned in the mail. It contained $110 when it was lost.

Giants Grab Series Opener

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
NEW YORK (AP)—Dusty Rhodes capped the fourth pinch homerun in the Polo Grounds right field stands Wednesday to wrap up the 10-inning opener for the underdog New York Giants 5-2.

The Giants today were in an advantageous position. They have the fully rested Johnny Antonelli, a 21-game winner, poised for a second thrust at the Cleveland Indians today.

Bob Lemon, one of the Indians' two 23-game winners absorbed Wednesday's defeat. Early Wynn, the other big winner, was Manager Al Lopez's choice for the second game. Another capacity crowd, matching Wednesday's 52,571 turnout, was expected.

Couldn't Be Shorter

No shorter homerun can be hit in any ball park than Rhodes' 270-footer that a fan muffed only inches above the green barrier. But it also is a fact that the slugger Indians had the same target.

Of deep satisfaction to Leo Durocher's club was the manner in which their relief star, the veteran Marv Grissom, walked in there to stop the Tribe in its tracks after their starter, Sal Maglie, suddenly felt his 37 years in the eighth inning and his reliever, Don Liddle, had been clouted for one of the longest and most sensational putouts ever seen anywhere.

And last, but far not least it was their No. 1 boy, Willie Mays, who saved the game with his truly amazing over-shoulder catch of Vic Wertz' towering 450-foot smash to the centerfield wall with two Indians on base and none out in the eighth.

Mays Held Hitless

The boy from Alabama didn't get a hit off Lemon. But he gave notice that he will be a telling factor all the way with that catch and his steal of second after Lemon had walked him with one out in the 10th. The steal caused the Indian ace to pass Hank Thompson purposely to set up a possible double play, and that gave Durocher the opportunity to insert the left swinging Rhodes for Monte Irvin.

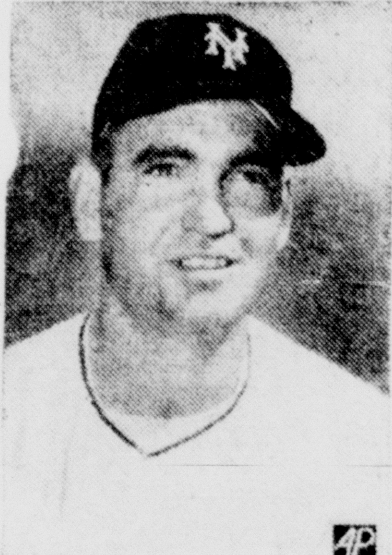

The best Irvin had been able to do in four tries was lay down a sacrifice bunt.

The record crowd of 52,571 gave Dusty a nice ovation, and the next thing anyone knew that lazy little fly was being boosted along by the wind toward its destiny.

The ironic part of it was that the same wind, blowing with some velocity across the field from left to right, almost surely robbed Jim Hegan, Cleveland's catcher, of a bases-loaded home run off Grissom in the eighth inning, and also blew one back off Al Dark's bat that would have given the Giants a 3-2 win after two were down in the ninth. Both knocks clearly were headed for the seats when they set out.

From the very start it was evident that Maglie was short on control, even though the veteran had warmed up for close to 20 minutes. His first three pitches to the Indians' leadoff batter, Al Smith, were not even close, and the fourth one plunked Smith.

Error On Mueller

Bobby Avila, the American League's leading hitter, followed with a looping single into short right which Don Mueller kicked around, permitting Smith to race to third. However, Sal settled and got Larry Doby and Al Rosen on popups, and that brought up Vic Wertz, the Tribe first-baseman.

Wertz bounced one off the centerfield wall and by the time it came back he was perched on third and two runs were across—the only runs the Indians were destined to get, despite the fact that Wertz slashed a double and two singles and nearly chased Mays out of the park on his next four tries.

The Giants got them back off Lemon in the third, when the top of their order, led by Whitey Lockman, delivered three clean singles and drew a walk to push two scores across with only one away. But that was all. Irvin struck out, and little Davey Williams, rolled to short.

From that point on until Rhodes finally got his chance, it was a question of one team and then the other threatening but failing to get the big hit. In all, the Indians stranded 13, the Giants 9.

Newberry Favored Over Emeralds Friday Night

MANISTIQUE — Coach Bill Jennings' Newberry Indians are rated a one touchdown favorite for their clash here Friday at 8:30 p. m., with the Manistique Emeralds.

Coach Dick Bonifas' grid men opened with wins over Ishpeming and Stephenson, but in the last two weeks slipped and lost 14-13 to Gladstone and 6-0 to Negaunee. The Indians tied Negaunee 20-20, beat Marquette 28-0 and lost 14-2 to the Soo.

The Emerald squad came through the Gladstone battle with a minimum of bumps and bruises, Bonifas reports, and the week has been spent on fundamentals of blocking and tackling.

Manistique will use the same defensive lineup as last week but the right halfback and left guard slots on offense are still open, Bonifas reports. The Emeralds are running from a wing T and single wing formation.

Bonifas today praised Robert (Pete) Carney, diminutive 138-pound right guard and defensive halfback, noting that he has been doing an excellent job though he is the smallest man in the lineup. Other players outweigh him a good 25 pounds, Bonifas observed.

Also in for citation was Jim Cowman, who has been doing "pretty fair work" as a signal caller in the quarterback post. He also is a defensive linebacker on the strong side, does most of Manistique's passing, and all of the punting. Ed Busch also was cited, for playing a consistently good game at tackle, and Bill Holm and Don Anderson, for running.

"We're not at all discouraged by the last two games," the Emerald mentor declared, "and a little hard work will rectify the mistakes we have been making."

The Emerald reserves will meet Newberry's second string at Newberry Saturday at 2 p. m. The Manistique second squad has lost 20-6 to Escanaba and won 13-0 over Gladstone.

Central Takes Over 10th Spot

Iron River Redskins had an open date last week, but they retained first place in the Upper Peninsula grid ratings of the U. P. Sports Writers Association.

The race shortened down to a three-team affair between the Iron River Redskins, Stambaugh Hill-toppers and the Sault Ste. Marie Blue Devils.

Iron River didn't get much solid support this week because of the idleness but they mustered enough votes to command the top spot. Stambaugh, with a fine 25-20 victory over Iron Mountain, vaulted ahead of the Soo Blue Devils, although the Soo chalked up its fourth straight win and still slipped from second to third choice.

Kingsford Flivvs made the biggest jump on the strength of a 59-0 walkaway over Stephenson as they vaulted from sixth to fourth place, while Menominee Maroons, spanked by Green Bay Central, 46-0, skidded from fifth to eighth.

Iron Mountain, bowing to Stambaugh, slipped from fourth to seventh place, a notch ahead of the Maroons.

The top ten (total votes in brackets):

- 1—Iron River (67)
- 2—Stambaugh (63)
- 3—Sault Ste. Marie (61)
- 4—Kingsford (44)
- 5—Ironwood (33)
- 6—Wakefield (32)
- 7—Iron Mountain (30)
- 8—Menominee (22)
- 9—Negaunee
- 10—Eskey Central (11)

Also receiving votes: Gladstone (3), Houghton (2), Bessemer (1).

The game of the week is scheduled at Iron River Friday night when Kingsford (No. 4) clashes with Iron River (No. 1).

Stambaugh is idle this week, resting up for a game with Iron River at Stambaugh the following Friday (Oct. 8) that could go a long way toward picking the U. P. champion for 1954.

Hutchinson Resigns As Detroit Manager

DETROIT (AP)—Fred Hutchinson resigned today as manager of the Detroit Tigers of the American League.

Hutchinson's resignation, which came amid rumors he might be the next manager of the Baltimore Orioles, came after the Tigers' board of directors voted to turn down his demand for a two year contract.

He was offered a one-year contract.

Notified of the board's decision, Hutchinson said he was turning down the offer "for personal reasons." Tiger President Walter O. (Spike) Briggs said, "We are in the process of investigating Hutchinson's successor and hope to have something by Friday."

Briggs could offer no reason for Hutchinson's resignation.

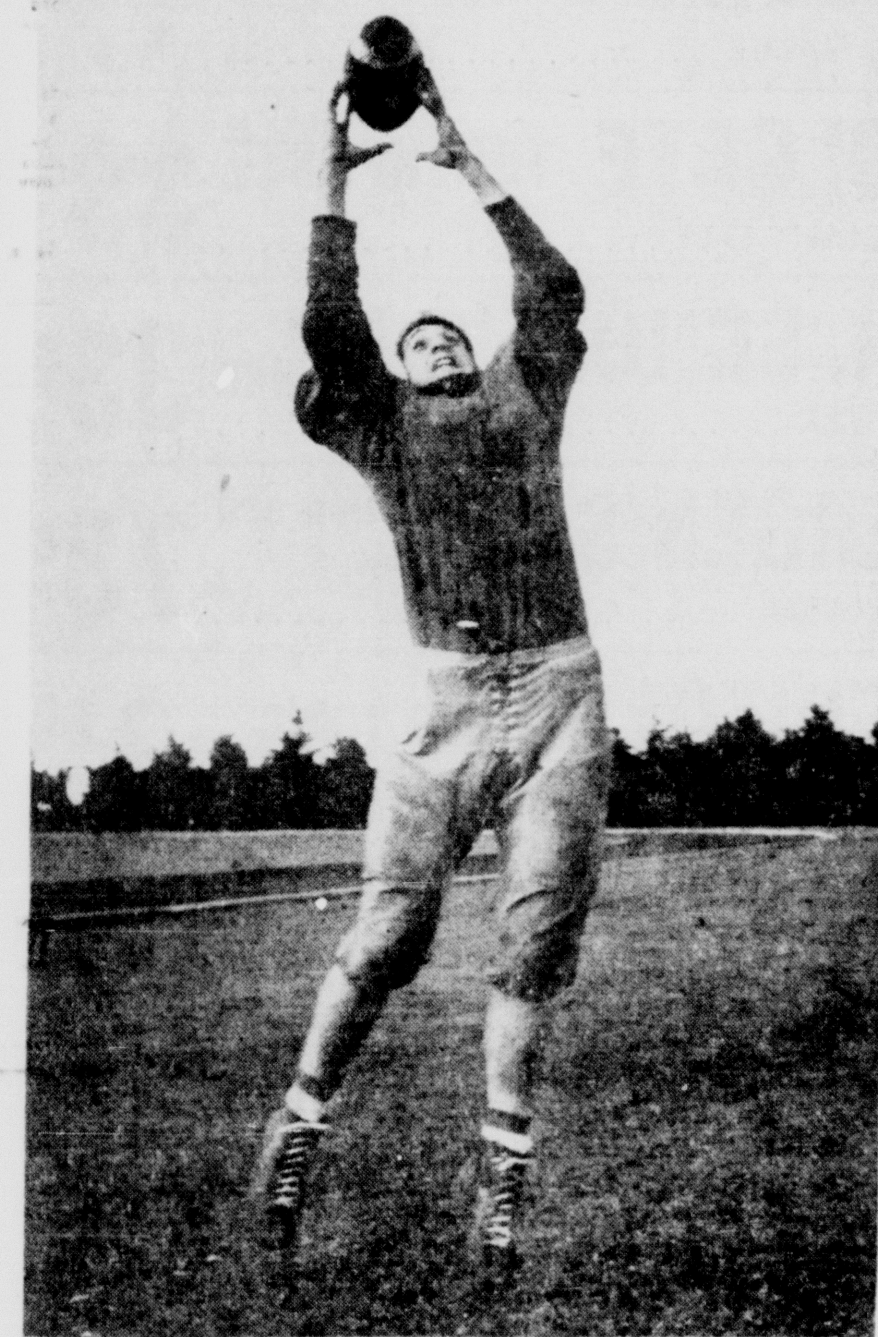

"If the Tigers finished fourth or better next season, another year's contract would be automatic," Briggs said. "We didn't even get as far as salary."

HOCKEY TICKETS

Season tickets to the Escanaba Hawks home hockey games in Northern Michigan League play this season are available up to Oct. 1 at special reduced rates. Officials of the Escanaba Hockey Association announced.

When Phil Cavaretta of the White Sox played in his 2,000th major league game on Aug. 15 he became the 53rd player in the history of the big leagues to take part in that many contests.

The Cuban winter league baseball season opens Oct. 7 and closes Feb. 8.

UP IN THE AIR—Big Jim Mongrain, rugged Escanaba Eskymo flanker, goes up in the air to catch a practice pass. The 185-pound senior, serving his second year as a first stringer, is one of Coach Joe Milokna's most valuable men in the line. The Eskymos are busy with last minute preparations for their game at Menominee Saturday night. (Daily Press Photo)

Modest Willie Says Catch Was Routine

By ED CORRIGAN

NEW YORK (AP)—Was that the greatest catch of his young career that Willie Mays made on Vic Wertz in the New York Giants' 5-2 opening World Series victory Wednesday.

"Naw," said the happy-go-lucky Willie in the dressing room later. "I had the ball all the way. There was nothing too hard about it. Maybe it did save the game, but you should never miss those kind. I've made better catches. But what about my hitting? I wasn't any help up there at the plate."

Antonelli Nonchalant

It was in the eighth inning with two men on base that Mays raced back to the Polo Grounds center field wall to grab Wertz' extra base bid with his back to the plate. "Just a regular game for us," shrugged Johnny Antonelli facetiously. "We won the pennant with finishes like this all season long."

He was referring, of course, to Dusty Rhodes' 10th inning, two-on-base home run.

Starting pitcher Sal Maglie who left the premises just before Mays made his great catch, told newsmen: "I didn't have real sharp control of my curve ball, so I couldn't hit the outside corner against the left-handers. That's what got me in trouble."

"And that Wertz. The way he was hitting today you couldn't get him out. The first time he hit a high, fast one, the next time a slider and the third time a low outside pitch."

Leo Lauds Dusty

Maglie probably will be ready to start again Sunday or Monday, although manager Leo Durocher wouldn't say.

Space Clock Tells The Time On Mars

Harrisburg, Pa. (AP)—Pennsylvanians can now tell easily what time it is on Mars.

The state industrial and construction exposition developed what it calls "the world's first space clock" for its annual meeting.

The space clock simultaneously records the hour, day, month and year on Mars, as well as on earth. The clock divides the Mars year into the conventional 12 months and into Mars days of 24 hours, 37 minutes, 23 seconds.

So sparsely settled are some sections of Australia that the National Geographic Society's map of this island continent shows a number of individual homesteads by name, as if they were towns or cities.

NOTICE TO BIDDERS

The Board of Supervisors of Delta County, Escanaba, Michigan, requests bids on new business machines and supplies necessary for the mechanical writing of real property descriptions, and related information on the assessment roll, tax roll, delinquent roll, tax statement, tax receipt and office copy of tax receipt.

Said equipment must be capable of:

- (1) Writing satisfactorily on carbon forms;
- (2) Spreading horizontally the required information across approximately 120 digit columns;
- (3) Listing vertically in consecutive order, if desired, instead of spreading the tax information.

Said equipment must be a writing unit of medium which is reasonably permanent and which is highly fire resistant; but still must be sufficiently flexible to make changed and/or corrected entries. Said equipment shall be, or shall be the equal of, products of the Addressograph-Multigraph Corporation, Cleveland, Ohio, and shall include adequate and appropriate cabinets and supplies for approximately 15,000 real property descriptions.

The quotations shall include all transportation and installation costs.

The bidder must submit evidence that the equipment can be serviced conveniently and maintained in excellent operating condition at all times. Successful bidder must be prepared to make delivery on or before September 15, 1952.

The Board of Supervisors reserves the right to accept or reject any and all bids, or accept the bid it deems most advantageous to Delta County.

Sealed bids must be deposited with the County Clerk on or before 10:00 A. M., Monday, October 13, 1951.

ONE ERROR TOO MANY

South went wrong on two major counts in the following hand—one in the bidding, the other in the play.

North dealer.

Neither side vulnerable.

The bidding:

North	East	South	West
1♠	Pass	1♠	Pass
1NT	Pass	3♠	Pass
4♠	Pass	Pass	Pass

South's three-spade rebid over North's one notrump was the sort of error that inexperienced (or greedy) players are constantly making. It was the next thing to a certainty that North should make three notrump with the help of South's five spade tricks—such a suit can be presumed to be solid—but it was not so sure that South could avoid the loss of four tricks at spades. If South's idea was to score his honors, he should change his attitude.

It is true that the four-spade contract was makable, but as additional proof that three notrump would have been better—South didn't make four spades. West led the ace and six of hearts. East won the second trick with the heart nine, cashed the king and led the heart queen. South ruffed and drew four rounds of trumps.

On the last trump a discard had to be made from dummy. After long thought, South threw off the diamond queen in order to keep all four of the clubs. Obviously, he hoped that the club suit would break 3-3 and permit a diamond discard, so that he would not have to take the diamond finesse. Unfortunately, however, this plan did not work—East turned up with a club stopper.

South's choice of discards from dummy was bad. The play for the 3-3 club break had substantially less chance than the straight 50 per cent play for the diamond finesse. Moreover, South should have realized that East, who had shown the K-Q-10-9 of hearts, probably would have made a non-vulnerable overall of the one-club opening if he had also held the diamond king.

She's Particular; Must Be Certified

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Jeff Morrow took a friend's 7-year-old daughter to her home in the San Fernando Valley and was annoyed when the little girl insisted on stopping at two filling station rest rooms along the way.

Within just a few blocks of her home, she asked Jeff to stop again. "My gosh, can't you wait to use your bathroom at home?" he asked.

"I could," the youngster replied, "but our's isn't certified."

Probation Broken

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—William I. Norton, 24, of Ludington, was sentenced to 18 months in a federal reformatory Tuesday as a probation violator. He broke into a slaughter house in Manistee County while on probation from a suspended sentence for wantonly destroying mail boxes. Federal Judge Raymond W. Starr restored the sentence.

SENSITIVE CAPITALIST

STOCKHOLM (AP)—A worker was fined 200 dollars in Uppsala recently for failing to declare in his income tax return the small fortune he had saved in years of thrifty living. He told the court he was afraid his workmates would find out he had a bank account and taunt him for being a "capitalist".

Construction Of State Office Building Here Will Benefit City

THE State of Michigan and the City of Escanaba both profit from the plan to construct a state office building in Escanaba. The proposal was submitted to state officials in Lansing Tuesday and was approved.

Mrs. Catherine Bonifas bequeathed $100,000 for the purpose. The City of Escanaba purchased the site, cleaning up a

Words, Wit & Wisdom

By William Morris

An interesting observation on one of the lamentably prevalent patterns of our colloquial speech comes from a Milwaukee reader. "I came from Europe. I can't understand where people get this word 'gonna.' They say, 'I'm gonna do this' or 'I'm gonna do that' instead of 'I'll do this' or 'I'll do that.' Or 'I'm going to do this or that.' So where do they get this 'gonna' I don't know. I go not see any word like that in the dictionary, nor in the newspapers, nor in any literature. Is it correct or wrong? Isn't it more correct to say 'I will do this' instead of 'I'm gonna do this'?"

You are entirely correct, good sir. The word "gonna" is nothing more than a corrupted pronunciation of "going to" and is certainly completely unacceptable in correctly spoken or written English. You are to be commended on your refusal to accept this slovenly mispronunciation.

A reader who reports herself addicted to travel guide books asks this question: "Where lies the difference in meaning between 'railway' and 'railroad'?" My guidebooks use them interchangeably. Are they synonymous or is one a noun and the other an adjective. If so, which?"

Railroad and railway are both nouns but also have adjective forms identically spelled. In years past the word "railway" was generally reserved for streetcar systems or other forms of rail transportation lighter than the full-fledged railroads with locomotives and rolling stock. This distinction, which was never observed by the British, incidentally, has gone by the boards in America with the gradual disappearance of our urban trolley-car systems and today the two words are generally used—as your guide books use them—interchangeably.

"Railroad" as a verb has acquired two rather interesting colloquial meanings—both, in a sense, reflecting our national admiration for the speed and sureness with which railroads work. Important legislation being put through in a rush—as was the case with our most recent Congress—is said to have been "railroaded." And a person sent to prison after a speedy trial on trumped-up charges usually claims he was "railroaded."

derelict block on Ludington Street. The city also authorized the creation of a building corporation to negotiate with the state for office leases and to build the structure.

The state benefits obviously because it gets, first of all, the benefit of the $100,000 bequest which now has increased to $110,000 in accumulated earnings. Also it benefits by the construction of facilities that the state needs to house its various agencies in Escanaba. And finally the state will get title to the property when construction costs have been redeemed.

The city's benefits are obvious enough. The building will convert a rundown Ludington Street block to a sight of beauty. It will consolidate state agencies in the community in one location and it will encourage the establishment of more state agencies in Escanaba.

There has been considerable discussion about the state office building for several years and particularly since the bequest of Mrs. Bonifas was made public. Now the time for talk has passed and the time for action is at hand.

Work on the building will get under way as soon as possible and the building will be ready for occupancy early next year.

A COURAGEOUS VETO

(Marquette Eagle-Star)

The National Federation of Post Office Clerks, largest organized group of federal employees, has condemned President Eisenhower for his veto of a 5 per cent pay increase. The veto also met with disfavor at the convention of the International Association of Postal Clerks, a smaller organization.

This was to be expected. It took courage for the President to veto the measure because a lot of votes probably are involved. But he kept his word. The President warned Congress that he would veto the bill if it did not provide funds for the increase. He called attention in a statement that the bill would add 112 millions to the cost of operating the Post Office Department which is currently operating at a deficit of 400 millions a year.

Yet the public will be inclined to approve the attitude of the President who declared that, "Legislation is obviously unwise that disregards principles of sound personnel management and ignores the necessity to pay for salary increases."

The public realizes, too, that the pay increase measure was a last minute bill passed by Congress in which it passed the buck to the President for its inability to agree on means of providing additional revenue to meet the proposed pay increase.

Try And Stop Me By BENNETT CERF

Just graduated with high honors from Harvard, young Smathers sought a job in one of Boston's swankiest banking establishments. Awaiting one of the vice-presidents, Smathers idly struck up a conversation with a freckle-faced office boy in short pants. "Tell me, Buster," he inquired loftily, "do you think there's an opening in this masty institution for a sharp young college graduate?" "There certainly will be," Buster assured him, "unless they raise me to twenty bucks a week by this coming Friday."

One of the shortest, and therefore most effective, "squeezes" of all times was administered by author Michael Arlen, whose racy novel, "The Green Hat," was a great best-seller in what now seems like the dim and distant past (1924). Arlen, dressed to the teeth, entered a salon, where a shrewish society lady declared coldly, "You look almost like a woman." Arlen bowed to the waist, and answered amiably, "So do you."

The Doctor Says...

Direct 'Yes' or 'No' Often Impossible In Human Ailments

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D. — Written for NEA Service

Today I am given a good scolding. Q—You and other doctors make me tired. Why can't you give a straightforward "yes" or "no" answer to the question you are asked? You pretend to help people in your column but you don't tell them what medicine to take or what to do to get well but just advise them to go see their doctors. It seems to me you are just trying to get the doctors to make more money.

J. L. A—All right, all right. First, as to the "yes" or "no" answer. The reason it is usually so difficult to make a flat statement in reply to a medical question is that two people who appear to have the same disorder often do not get along the same way even when they receive the same treatment. Would you, for example, want me to say that all those who suffer a heart attack will die suddenly? If I did it would not be true because a great many recover and live normal lives. It is for reasons like this that a direct yes or no answer is so often impossible when dealing with human ailments.

Now to the question on giving treatments. Again two people with the same disease will not respond the same way to the same drugs; some will be sensitive to one drug and not another and the dosage or amount will vary from person to person. Probably the most dangerous thing I could do would be to recommend the same treatment to all readers of this column who suffered from what appeared to them to be identical symptoms.

Finally, I am not trying to make the doctors rich. Most of them have enough or too much to do anyway. But surely a person who is ill stands a better chance of getting well from the personal attention of a competent physician than from any recommendations for treatment published in some kind of wholesale manner.

Q—Can anyone die of a broken heart? I have had a terrible shock and disappointment and feel terribly hurt. Mrs. A.

A—There is no physical disorder which doctors recognize as a broken heart coming from shock and disappointment. It is true that emotional shocks can bring about some bodily changes, however, and deep hurt and disappointment can be one of these. I should say, however, that death from a "broken heart" is not in the cards.

Q—Can you give me information on the disease called "torticollis"?

A—This is the medical name for wry neck, meaning that the neck is somewhat twisted and the head held on one side. The cause of most varieties is rather obscure but often there seems to be a strong emotional or nervous element. In the more difficult cases a highly technical operation has sometimes proved successful where other measures have failed.

Q—Is it possible to get ptomaine poisoning from eggs? Mrs. H. B.

A—The word "ptomaine" has gone out of use but it is possible to get food poisoning from eggs if they have been contaminated with germs. This is rather unusual and poisoning from eggs is one of the more uncommon forms of food poisoning.

Today In Washington

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON—The Watkins committee report, proposing "censure" of Senator McCarthy, opens up more issues than it settles.

The issue never was and is not now whether Senator McCarthy is a good senator or a bad senator, whether he is clumsy and tactless or even reckless in his speeches and comments in others. The issue is whether a senator's spoken or written words are to be formally judged by his colleagues as to the degree of their justification. What are the "standards" to be used hereafter before imposing or withholding "censure" and in deciding whether criticism is "harsh" or "denunciatory" or gentle or polite?

The committee report has in its serious contradictions. One need cite only a few of the glaring inconsistencies to illustrate the point.

IGNORES PRINCIPLE

Thus, the committee examined the innuendoes in the report of the Senate subcommittee on elections and privileges of 1952 relating to the Wisconsin senator's income taxes, and now frankly admits that the other committee had no proof of wrongdoing. This special committee, too, says it has no proof of any law violations. How far can a senator be persecuted in a political inquiry or smear about his personal affairs? Must he himself furnish the evidence to corroborate charges of wrongdoing against him or else be subject to "censure"? The committee report completely ignores the basic principle that nobody should be requested to testify against himself and that, if he is so requested, it should be in a form of a subpoena, which the Senate subcommittee on privileges and elections never issued. The excuse for failing to issue a subpoena is a lame one—unworthiness of the men on the Watkins committee.

What becomes, also, of the pious comments of recent months that the separation of powers between the executive and legislative departments of the government must be respected and that the executive agencies should be permitted to do their job without interference from the legislative branch? The Department of Justice, in a letter from Attorney General Brownell, several months ago announced that the Wisconsin senator had not violated any federal law. Now it has become known that the Internal Revenue bureau has no charges of fraud to make against McCarthy in connection with income taxes. Yet the Watkins committee still indulges in such innuendo and leaves it to the reader to imagine that there was something fraudulent which the bureau of internal revenue presumably overlooked. Isn't that "character assassination"?

ANOTHER INCONSISTENCY

Another inconsistency is in the matter of "provocation." The Watkins committee ruled that speeches by Senator Flanders of Vermont had inspired Senator McCarthy's outburst about him and hence he should not be "censured" for what he said about Mr. Flanders. But if "provocation" becomes a basis for dismissing one "censure" charge, why was not the same rule followed on the "censure" count in connection with the alleged abuse of General Zwicker when he was a witness? The record shows that the Wisconsin senator had ample basis for provocation but the Watkins committee refused to insist on the evidence as to just what provoked Senator McCarthy's outburst against General Zwicker. Who is the Watkins committee expert on human psychology capable of determining from a mere reading of words whether a witness was evasive, arrogant or provocative?

Also, what happens to the senators who filed charges which now have been dropped or dismissed by the Watkins committee? In the case of a person falsely arrested, there is redress in the courts. What is the redress of the senator from Wisconsin against those senators who in their public speeches have abused him? For the committee itself now says these accusations against Mr. McCarthy do not justify "censure."

Does it mean now that some senators can continue to castigate others—as they often do on the stump—and yet go scot-free? Or does it mean that only if a senator happens to be investigating Communists, he must stand trial before the country and be given a guilty verdict for offenses never previously declared by senate rules to be offenses?

There have been many martyrs in world history produced as a consequence of injustice not recognized in the passions of the day. What we shall witness as a consequence of the Watkins report is the making of a martyr.

Millions of persons in America will not accept the Watkins report as conclusive because they know that on this very day a man who refused to tell the United States Army, of which he was an officer, whether or not he was a Communist can hang on his wall a framed certificate of honor of discharge from the United States Army itself. They know that the senator who exposed that kind of thing is now being pilloried and punished. They know that the persons who withheld the information from Congress and who committed a blunder in permitting the honorable discharge have never been censured, and their identity has been covered up. Yet the senator who fought to expose all this now has been punished in the court of public opinion by a formal report of a committee of six senators. That's the way martyrs are made.

First Blood

Chinese On Mainland Stay Cool Toward Leader Chiang Kaishek

By JOHN SMITH

Written for NEA Service
HONG KONG —(NEA)— The parts of China I saw on my recent visit to my former home are not seething for a chance to overthrow the Communists. Least of all would they be likely to rally to the banners of Chiang Kai-shek. A third force in China could gain popular support to oust the Reds.

Chiang has been discredited to the mainland Chinese as "a corrupt old dictator." This Communist party propaganda line has convinced its captive audience.

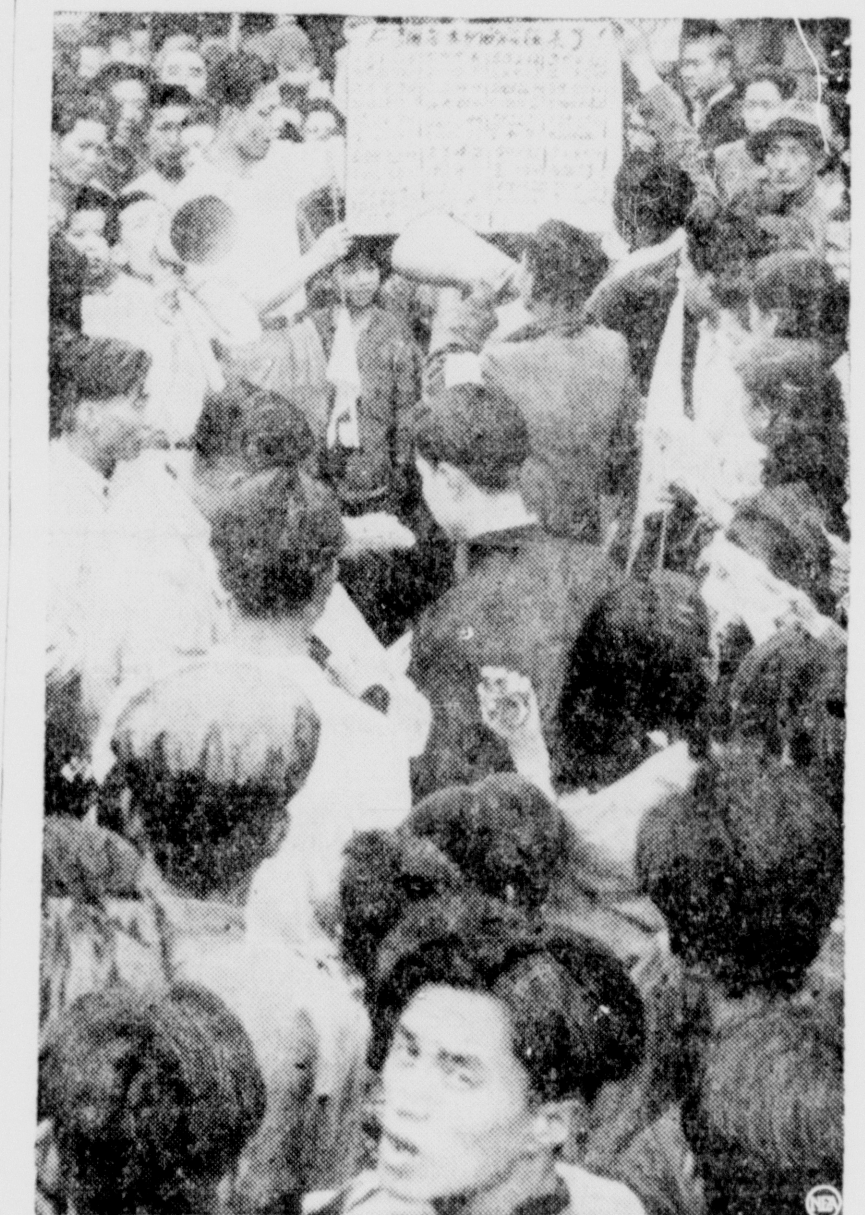

But propaganda attacks against the "imperialistic Americans" have not achieved such widespread success, and there are many potential allies for the United States among those who would not life a finger to aid Chiang's forces.

There is no question that the food situation in Red China is appalling. Many locally produced items of foodstuff are exported to Russia in repayment for arms and technical training personnel. Next to rice in importance in the Chinese diet are oil, fats and pork.

In South China, where enthusiasm for the U. S. is strongest, these items are in extremely short supply. In Hankow, rice and oil rations must be collected daily. This is an unbearable hardship for the aged and infirm, but the People's Government makes no exceptions.

The Army, the police and bureaucrats who administer the system are well taken care of and the masses remain in line.

Oddly enough, social life for foreigners goes on in Red China in faint facsimile of the old days. In Shanghai, the famous old clubs of the International Settlement ago, private businesses were encouraged. Now the reverse is true. Through an ingenious Red method, property is not seized, however. It is given to the government as a present.

PROPAGANDA SESSIONS IN SHANGHAI. The Reds have discredited Chiang, but attacks on the U. S. are not so successful.

The owner is put in the gift-giving frame of mind by several means, such as withdrawal of an order in mid-contract and refusal to pay. Or perhaps the government will insist on bankrupting renovations of the property.

Sometimes, the government puts the business owner through the motions of a sale. At one window of a bank, the owner draws the value of his business in cash. He is told to stop at another window, where he learns that he has overlooked back taxes which just happen to total exactly the same amount as he has withdrawn for selling his property to the government.

Some of the Communist zeal seems to have gone out of the workers as production has slipped. An example is a tire factory I was familiar with in years gone by.

At first, the workers enthusiastically endorsed the new regime. They poured forth extra effort and during the first year of Red rule did an outstanding production job. To their dismay they learned that the more they produced the more would be expected of them. Each month the government production quota rose. Gradually, production and quality slipped, and the management was changed several times to little avail.

According to the Chinese, this is true in most fields of industry. These conditions of unrest, food shortages and uncertainty might be interpreted by wishful thinkers as hopeful signs that the system will soon fall apart in China. Actually, it is felt here that these are danger signals. The internal troubles which I saw and the rumblings which I sensed are unfortunately the type that can lead to further aggression.

The American people didn't like what was happening in this country and they said so at the poll in 1952. They delegated us to clean up the mess, and... under the leadership of that great American, Dwight Eisenhower, great headway has been made.—House Speaker Joseph Martin.

This (Dixon-Yates) contract is still as mysterious as a sphinx and as secret as the grave.—Rep. Emanuel Celler (D., N. Y.).

Good Evening....

By CLINT DUNATHAN

THE WORLD SERIOUS—It is difficult these days to consider the world situation without considerable misgiving. There is the defense stalemate in Europe, the threat to peace in Asia, and the scandals that rock the Italian government.

"We certainly find the world in a serious condition," I said to a friend of mine. "What do you think will happen?"

"Well," said he, "there was a record crowd at the opener and I don't think the World Series are going to do too bad this year."

"No, no," I interrupted. "What I mean is, for instance, the de Seelba trouble."

"Who does he pitch for? Never heard of him. Any relation to Sal Maglie?"

I tried to tell him that this flareup was in Italy, not at the Polo Grounds, but he rattled on about the Giants having the edge in the series. Lippy Durocher was too much for Lopez.

Nehru certainly could not be counted as a friend of the West, said I, intent on leading him into a discussion of more important things. Because of their neutrality the Indians—

"Oh, yeah, I get it," he said. "With Lomon on the mound the Indians are rated 17 to 10 favorite. But this guy Nehru—you must've got him mixed up with some other ball club."

Deciding it was necessary to shift the topic I commented that if Mendez France were not so fearful of a rearmaged Germany the EDC would have been an accomplished fact for the defense of the free world. Attlee would then not have found it necessary to go to bat—

"Not Attlee or whatever his name is," said my friend. "You mean Avila. Second base for the Indians. Bating average .341." Convinced now that my friend's lack of knowledge concerning the international situation made it necessary to bring the topic of conversation closer home, we mentioned the McCarthy censure case. What would the Senators do in Washington on Nov. 8?

"Who been giving you a line," said my friend. "Senators aint playing in Washington or anywhere else on that date." "But what do you think of this Joe must go business," I said rather desperately, trying to reduce the subject to its minimum essentials.

"Boy," he said, leering. "Di Maggio aint gotta go—he's gone. And look who with!" When I failed to respond he said impatiently: "The Body, the Bosom, the Monroe Doctrine. Get it?"

Recognizing that my friend was equally uninformed concerning the nation's domestic problems, I said haughtily that he certainly didn't know much about national affairs.

"I know this," he replied pugnaciously, "the National Leaguers got big league stars at every position. The Giants got no equal at hitting and fielding. I know that. And I know them Senators you was talking about has got a new manager by name of Charlie Dressen—and he gets $40,000 a year which aint hay."

Or peanuts either, I added under my breath. Groping around for a new conversational slant, I decided to get a little closer home. Surely my friend would know something about the Michigan political scene.

"Know the answer to this one?" queried my friend before I could speak. "The one about the three old women who bought a bottle and went to the ball game?" I shook my head. "Give up?" he asked. I nodded. "At the end of the fifth the bags were loaded!" he said triumphantly.

He was still cackling over his joke when I asked him how he thought Williams would make out in the gubernatorial race this year.

"Williams? Oh, sure—Williams. Near the bottom. New York Giants, second base, batting average .222."

And Leonard, I said, what about Leonard? He might prove a popular candidate and unseat Williams.

"Listen," said my friend, scowling. "I been trying to follow you all through this quiz program and I don't know no Leonard and I aint got time to get down into the minor leagues. I'm going home and put my feet up in front of the TV set."

"World serious?" I asked.

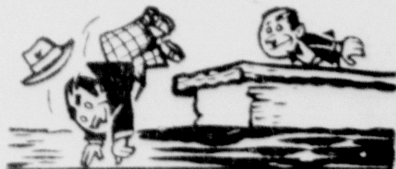

"No," he grinned. "World Series!"

Some fish grew very quickly and some very slowly this summer—depending on who caught them.

For a housewife to get all the meats she needs for the family is a gamble—and the steaks are too darn high.

During the hot weather, when told to go jump in the lake, smart people did it.

The season for the sport shirt with the low-cut collar is almost over. Then, back into the trenches we go.

Juke Box Parks Car

LOUISVILLE, Ky.—Now comes juke box parking lots.

You put your two-bits in the slot, the gate opens and you drive in and park your own car.

Fritz W. Drybrough is trying out the mechanical innovation on one of his Louisville parking lots.

He expects to get new revenue at night when the volume of parking isn't sufficient to warrant paying an attendant.

The collection box will take a quarter or three dimes. Upon being properly fed, the machinery goes into motion. The railroad-type gate rises and the car is driven into the lot. As it crosses a trolley set in the pavement, the gate falls again.

Now you are in and you want out. Another trolley opens the exit gate and it closes behind you.

The inventor is William B. Spencer, a 30-year-old Chicagoan.

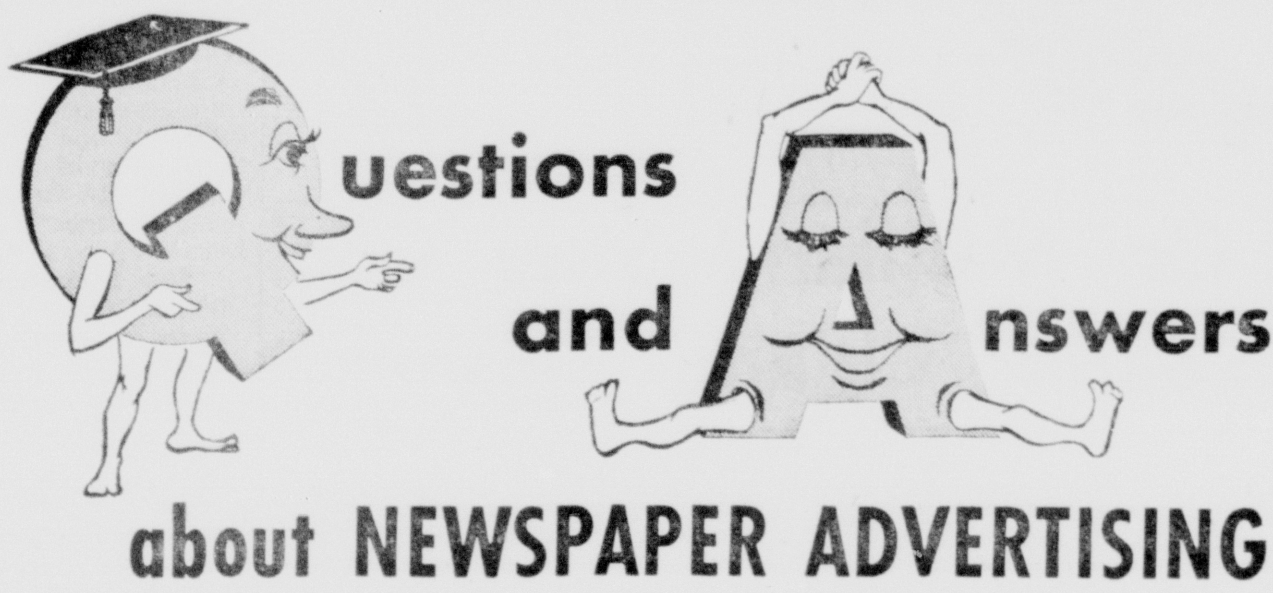

The automatic arrangements are in effect only during the time the lot has no attendant—at night. The machine does not give change for three dimes. The lot keeps it. Motorists who don't have a quarter get stuck for an extra nickel.

Just because a man is on the level is no reason he won't have an uphill fight to get along.

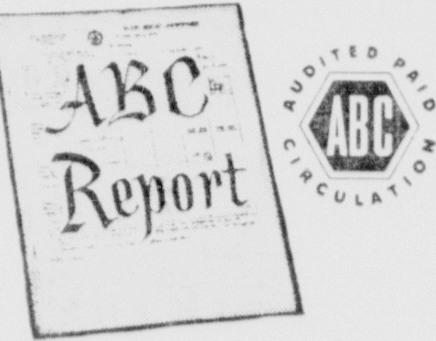

AUTOMATIC—Inventor William Spencer looks on while Lacey Dennis uses the new coin-operated gate for a parking lot in Louisville, Ky.

MEMO TO ADVERTISERS

Questions and answers about NEWSPAPER ADVERTISING

- Q. What are the 3 most important rules for profitable newspaper advertising?
- A. 1. Your advertising message should be newsy, friendly, informative, easy to read. Give facts and news about your merchandise and service.
2. Advertise regularly. Make your advertising do what successful salesmen do—call on customers and prospects consistently.
3. Insist on audited circulation reports that give you the FACTS about the audience that your sales messages will have when you buy newspaper advertising.
- Q. Is there a measure for the value of newspaper circulation to an advertiser such as the standards a merchant uses in buying merchandise—for example, like STERLING on silver?
- A. Yes—in the well known circulation standards of the AUDIT BUREAU OF CIRCULATIONS.
- Q. What is the A.B.C.?
- A. The A.B.C. is a cooperative, non-profit association of 3,450 advertisers, advertising agencies and publishers in the United States and Canada. Organized in 1914. Brought order out of advertising chaos by establishing a definition for paid circulation, rules and standards for measuring, auditing and reporting the circulations of newspapers and periodicals.
- Q. What does A.B.C. do for me?
- A. At regular intervals one of the Bureau's large staff of experienced circulation auditors makes a thorough audit of the circulation records of each publisher member. The results of each audit are published in an easy-to-read A.B.C. report for your use and protection when you buy newspaper advertising.
- Q. What are the FACTS in A.B.C. reports?
- A. A.B.C. reports tell you how much circulation, where it goes, how obtained and other FACTS that help you buy advertising as you would make any sound business investment—on the basis of known values and audited information.
- Q. Are all publications eligible for A.B.C. membership?
- A. No. Only those with paid circulation. This is important to advertisers because it is evidence that the paper is wanted and read.
- Q. Is this newspaper a member of the Audit Bureau of Circulations?
- A. Yes. We are proud of our circulation. We want you to know the FACTS about the audience your selling messages will have when they appear in these pages. Ask for a copy of our latest A.B.C. report.

Great worry of some medical school administrators is that the quality of doctors would be lowered under an accelerated training program.

Reminding that "no medicine may be much better than bad medicine," one midwest authority further cautions: "as the quantity of professional men is increased (with undesirable conditions), the quality is likely to go down. This does not mean that we still would not have many outstanding doctors and dentists, but rather that they would be harder to find if the number of professional men were increased."

Quickest remedy seems apparent at Wayne University.

"At the present moment we have physical facilities for taking 100 students, per class," states Dean Gordon H. Scott. "We have no funds with which to hire the additional faculty necessary to handle another 25 students per class. When we were granted a new building by the legislature, we were taking 68 students. We have trained every resource since that time so that we might raise the number from 68 to 75. We cannot go further than we have without diluting our instructional program."

Cost of increasing the student load at Wayne to 100 per year would be approximately $250,000 per year is the opinion of Dean Scott. It amounts to $2,500 per new student.

education, an integral part of health maintenance, from these other publicly accepted responsibilities."

Since indications are that a higher percentage of Wayne medical graduates stay in Michigan to practice than do those from U of M, there is room for argument that the legislature should help support the smaller medical school.

The Legislature is less concerned with problems caused by doctor shortage than it could be.

A resolution that would have created a committee to study the subject in general did not receive favorable action despite efforts of Representative Ben E. Lohman, chairman of the Public Health Committee.

Free Cyprus Favored

SCARBOROUGH, England (P)—The annual Labor party conference went on record as opposing the conservative government's fight to hold on to the Mediterranean island of Cyprus. Lost Fleet Is Not Lost, Divers Find

FT. EUSTIS, Va. (P)—Lord Cornwallis' fleet, scuttled or sunk in the Battle of Yorktown in 1781, isn't lost, Mike Moran says the ships are preserved in the mud at the bottom of the York river—and he knows the location of every ship.

Chief Warrant Officer Eugene F. (Mike) Moran should know. He is chief of the diving section at Ft. Eustis and has spent more time under the waters of the York than most people have on the surface. He has been responsible for training the army's divers for eight years.

Hit By Diphtheria

DETROIT (P)—Seven children of one Detroit family, ranging in age from 2 to 13 years, are hospitalized with diphtheria. The Board of Health said none of the children had been inoculated against the disease, contrary to general practice. The family was not identified publicly.
